Chairperson's Remarks

2022 saw the launch of the National Library of Ireland's (NLI) five-year (2022-2026) strategy which sets out key priorities to deliver our mission under each of the five strategic pillars: collect, protect, reveal, engage and innovate. Throughout last year progress was made in each of these areas.

As COVID-19 conditions eased, we were delighted to welcome the public back to our reading rooms and exhibitions. Onsite activities resumed including later opening events supported by the Government's Night-Time Economy scheme. The experience of having to adapt to online engagement during COVID-19 has given us new expertise and audiences that we continue to develop alongside the physical delivery of services.

Important acquisitions enhanced the collections, including the acquisition of the earliest-known Irish grant of arms in existence and additions to our civil war materials. Our commitment to recording all aspects of Irish life was reinforced with the donation of the personal papers of the renowned HIV/AIDS activist and former priest, Bernárd Lynch.

Our digital collections continue to grow. In 2022, we digitised over 22,000 items from our collections making them accessible to more people throughout Ireland and the world. We archived over 700 Irish websites, demonstrating our ongoing commitment to collecting the story of contemporary Ireland. I would like to thank all of our donors, who play such an important role in supporting the NLI.

We continued our significant contribution to the Decade of Commemorations with the launch of Revealing History, a digital campaign highlighting material that relates to the political and social upheaval of 1922, and the lives of four individuals who played important roles during that time.

Work progressed on our vital capital development programme, a partnership with the Office of Public Works (OPW) and the Department of Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media (DTCAGSM). This will bring about the complete transformation of the West Wing of the Library's main building into an exciting cultural experience – creating a major new public space for future generations of visitors.

I would particularly like to thank Catherine Martin, Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media and her officials for their strong support of the National Library of Ireland. I would also like to express appreciation of the contribution of fellow Board colleagues and the commitment and dedication of everyone in the National Library.

Finally, I wish to record our thanks and appreciation to Acting Director, Katherine McSharry, who left us to take up the position of Director of Cultural Heritage at University College Dublin. I welcome our new Director, Dr Audrey Whitty, who joined us in February 2023 and brings a wealth of valuable expertise and experience to the NLI.

Collect

The National Library of Ireland is the library of record for Ireland. We care for over twelve million items including books, newspapers, photographs, maps, ephemera, drawings, manuscripts and digital-born material.

The national collection continues to grow through a combination of purchased and donated materials, and our expansive legal depository. As a legal deposit library, we are entitled to a copy of everything published in the State. We receive and collect a vast number of newspapers, periodicals and books with an average of 300 items per week.

Our Digital Collections now include more than 160,000 digitised items available through our online catalogue and we increasingly collect material created entirely in digital format such as websites, social media and emails.

Throughout 2022 we continued to enhance the national collections through donation and acquisition. A notable addition was the Stanyhurst Grant of Arms dating from 1554. Purchased at auction, the 468-year-old Tudor manuscript is the earliest known Irish grant of arms in existence and is remarkably well-preserved.

The NLI cares for the largest collection of WB Yeats material in the world, and recent additions include a hand-captioned holiday photo album belonging to Elizabeth (Lolly) Corbet Yeats.

Additions to our expansive collection of Irish Civil War items include: standing orders from an internment camp where anti-Treaty Irregulars were held; letters from the IRA Waterford Brigade to Edmund Downey, editor of The Waterford News, attempting to censor reports in that paper, 1922; and five photos of Michael Collins' funeral procession down Grafton Street.

Letters and correspondence acquisitions ranged from the donation of two love letters dated 1752 to correspondence from Kathleen Keyes McDonnell lobbying for her husband's release from prison post-1916 Rising and a series of letters (2010-2015) by Brian Friel.

Contemporary illustrated texts and prints acquisitions included Evening, with Ghost Moths, a poem by Seán Hewitt and work by illustrator Tatyana Feeney from the Irish language children's book Cillian agus an Rón.

Other notable acquisitions to the published collections included: a 1969 manuscript of Eavan Boland's The Winning of Etain signed by Boland with compliment slip signed by Allen Figgis; and Short Stories in Print, a limited edition collection featuring unpublished work by some of Ireland's leading writers and published by the National Print Museum.

Collecting representatively and inclusively is a key objective for the NLI. This year, we welcomed the acquisition of the personal papers of the renowned HIV/AIDS activist and former priest, Bernárd Lynch and the Traveller Family Tree archive in collaboration with Mincéirí Port Láirge (Waterford Traveller Community Development Project).

Digital Collections

Our goal is to capture and preserve the recorded memory of Ireland in all its forms, which increasingly means born-digital formats; from video streams to digital documents and websites. The NLI has been engaged in archiving websites of interest to Irish life since 2007, with an active selective archiving programme in place since 2011.

This year, work progressed on collecting digital material that explore: biodiversity and the Environment, Diaspora, LGBTI+ and areas of cultural interest such as music and sports. Highlights of digital-born archives added to the collection include Census 2022 and Ireland + the EU.

Protect

Protecting and safeguarding the national collections continues to be an enduring priority for us. Collection care is a core function of the National Library. This work necessitates a range of specialist preservation actions and conservation treatment, from the provision of fit-for-purpose collection storage to digital preservation, and security and disaster recovery planning. These critical tasks underpin all we do and ensure we keep the national collections safe and accessible for today's users and generations to come.

Conservation and Preservation

The Conservation Department preserves and conserves the national collections, improving their condition and preventing damage. The collections in our care range from fragile glass photographic plates and 12th century deeds on vellum, to web archives and 40km of books. Conservators advise on how to handle objects safely, assess the condition of material and rehouse it.

Conservation work on over 1,500 items was carried out over the course of the year. This included material from Manuscript, Photographic and Printed collection areas, and items from the Sheehy Skeffington collection and Band Aid collection.

The Conservation Department hosted a conservation scientist from The National Archives of the UK (TNA), collaborating on projects such as the investigation of colourants on unique heraldic manuscripts and the 17th century collection of manuscript maps by Richard Bartlett.

Additional conservation highlights include: a rare 18th century printed book by Giovanni Battista Piranesi prepared and exhibited in 'For the Love of the Master' (Dublin Castle), Joyce-related items were prepared and installed for display at the National Library of Luxembourg and a selection of 50 volumes from the Clóliosta book collection were prioritised for conservation.

Reveal

The National Library has been revealing the story of Ireland for almost 150 years. We have family history services and research spaces for Published and Special Collections, and we reach out beyond our physical buildings, as cataloguing and digital access makes our collections available to an unprecedented number of users. Cataloguing remains a core function which makes the holdings of the National Library visible to people across the world and digitisation allows users to access materials wherever they are.

Digitisation Highlights

Through our digitisation programme in 2022, we digitised 22,363 items. This included 21,470 manuscripts, 665 photographs, 140 prints and drawings and 76 books.

Work continued on a project to digitise the Clóliosta, a published bibliography of pre-1871 Irish language printings in the NLI's collections.

Building Programme

Our multi-year 'Reimagining the National Library' capital development project is our most important reveal since we opened our doors in 1890. With an emphasis on improving the range and quality of public services within the main library building, this major redevelopment of the NLI's West Wing will create new, free and accessible public spaces in Dublin's city centre. Sustainability and accessibility are cornerstones of the project. Ongoing work this year included detailed design development, investigative surveys, reports and pre-planning consultations with Dublin City Council, with a goal to submitting a planning application in 2023. We also saw significant progress on the refurbishment of the Manuscripts Reading Room and a new Art Room, both due to open to the public in 2023.

The NLI's capital development project is progressing with the support of the Department of Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media (DTCAGSM) and the Office of Public Works (OPW). During the year, we welcomed Minister Catherine Martin (DTCAGSM) and Minister Patrick O'Donovan (OPW) for tours of the West Wing building.

Studentships Programme

Each year, the NLI offers a limited number of studentships and internships to share practical insights into a career in librarianship or other departments in the NLI. We have partnered with a number of bodies and organisations since the programme commenced in 1999. The University College Dublin (UCD) School of Library and Information Studies, the UCD School of History, the Irish Committee of Historical Sciences and the Heritage Council of Ireland are integral to running this valued offering each year.

Launch of New Five-Year Strategy

May saw the publication of our five-year strategy. Developed by the Board, the Director and the Leadership Team, the strategy was created with a framework of five strategic pillars. They continue the work of the strategic period 2016-2021 which highlighted enduring priorities for the NLI such as collecting and protecting.

These five pillars set forth an ambitious strategic programme for the period 2022-2026 that will see the NLI transformed and reimagined through a substantial capital redevelopment programme and extensive work across all our services and functions.

The NLI's five strategic priorities for 2022-2026 are to 'Collect, Protect, Reveal, Engage and Innovate'.

Engage

The National Library's tradition of welcome underpins everything we do and public engagement is a vibrant and central part of our work. Exhibitions, events, tours and learning activities help us to promote inclusive engagement with the collections we hold in trust.

The rapid and necessary development of our digital outreach in previous years has produced valuable new platforms to engage with users across the country and internationally. The new methods we developed of connecting with our online audiences remained in place and helped to grow our reach and further our mission to share the national collections with the world.

With over a million website visits from 200 countries and 10.4% annual growth in social media followers we continued to programme online as well as in-person activity to meet demand. The NLI's tradition of partnership underpins our achievements and some of the highlights from 2022 are showcased on the following pages.

In December, a film screening of Postcards from Heaney Country, was held followed by a discussion in response to the project.

Innovate

The National Library of Ireland has a long-standing reputation as an innovator and is taking the lead in digital collecting and digitisation to ensure the evolving landscape of culture and history is conserved into the future and accessible to all. To date we have digitised over 160,000 items from the national collections.

Selective Web Archiving

Every year, we selectively archive the Irish web on a permission basis, with public input. In the archive, the sites can be browsed exactly as a user would do on the web, and are safe even if the website is completely changed or has disappeared.

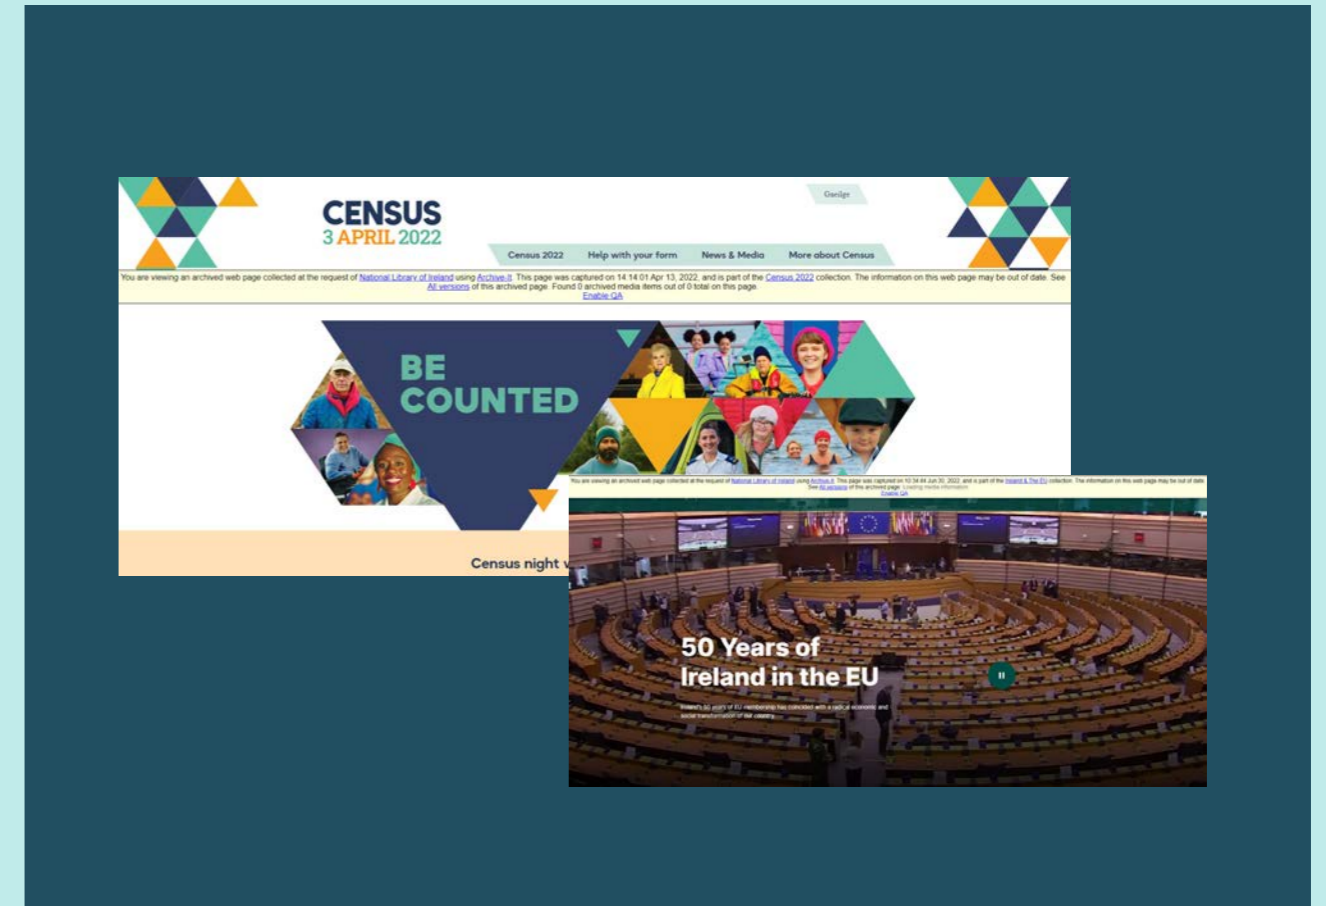

Our web archive collection preserves and makes Irish content websites from 2011 to the present openly available. During 2022 we crawled 736 websites, adding a further 6.1 TB of data to the NLI's Selective Web Archive. A large range of sites were covered from culture, diaspora and education to sport and social movements. Work to record the Irish response to COVID-19 also continued.

Digital Highlights

In 1809, the British government appointed the Bog Commissioners to compile reports and large scale maps on bog land across 22 different counties in Ireland. In early 2022, the NLI digitised the collection of the enormous hand-drawn maps to create a valuable digital source of historic geo-spatial data and foster new partnerships. RePEAT is an interdisciplinary project at the crossroads of ecology, history and geography. Funded by the Department of Agriculture, Food and the Marine (DAFM) and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), RePEAT seeks to identify ways to reduce the management intensity of peatlands in Ireland and explore the re-wetting of Irish bog land.

Conservation Internship

The NLI runs an annual conservation internship programme in collaboration with the Heritage Council. Conservation internships continued in 2022 and the project work undertaken included conservation of manuscript volumes for digitisation, as well as conservation of new accessions to our prints and drawings and ephemera collections.

Highlights from recent website archiving: Census, 3 April 2022 and 50 Years of Ireland in the EU

Diversity and Inclusion

Diversity and inclusion is central to all we do, building on a long tradition of welcome for all. We continue to prioritise equality and incorporate diversity and inclusion in all aspects of our work, collections and working relationships. Highlights:

- Installation of hearing loops to assist readers and visitors with a hearing impairment.
- Active Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (ED&I) working committee comprised of NLI staff continued it's work.
- SH:LNA commissioned five videos interpreting Heaney's poems into ISL along with an accompanying poetry guide.
- JAM Card programme adopted to support people with a hidden disability in order to tell others they need 'Just A Minute' discreetly and easily.

Digital Partnerships

Staff from the NLI served as committee members on the International Internet Preservation Consortium (IIPC), Digital Preservation Coalition (DPC), Digital Scholarship Network Ireland (DSN-IE), and iPRES Programme Committee for the iPRES 2022 conference on Digital Preservation in Glasgow. We were also invited to join DPC BitList Council.

In October, NLI collaborated with the Irish Film Institute (IFI) to co-present on the issue of language bias at the 6th annual 'No Time To Wait' conference in The Hague. For World Digital Preservation Day 2022, the NLI staff led an in-person workshop entitled: 'Focus on Digital: An introduction to working with born-digital photographic collections'.

Complete Website Redesign

Planning and development work for the NLI website continued throughout 2022 with a launch scheduled for early 2023. The new bilingual website will offer a greater level of user accessibility and will help to develop our communications across multiple platforms.

Online Catalogue Updated

Following essential upgrades to our online catalogue in November 2021, (<https://catalogue.nli.ie>) an increase of 11% engagement occurred in 2022. The updated interface offers greater accessibility for users. Using International Image Interchange Format (IIIF), ensures our digitised material is shareable and reusable. Further updates to the catalogue involved bringing NLI material from sources.nli.ie, registers.nli.ie and the old newspaper database into catalogue.nli.ie. This allows users to search across all catalogued material in one place for the first time.

COVID-19

While access to our public spaces was reinstated during 2022, we remained committed to maintaining a safe and healthy working environment for all staff and visitors.

Public Sector Climate Action Mandate

The mandate highlights the main climate action objectives for public bodies. In compliance with the mandate, the NLI report on the following:

1. Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions

The Sustainable Energy Authority of Ireland (SEAI) monitoring and reporting report for 2022 shows energy savings of 52.4% for the NLI when compared to the 2009 baseline year.

2. Implementation of the mandate

The Board of the NLI approved the NLI Climate Action Roadmap 2022 in December.

3. Sustainability activities report

A number of sustainable initiatives occurred and were continued in 2022 including:

- Continuing the programme of replacement of light fittings with LED lights
- Replacement of gas boilers in National Photographic Archive
- Installation of secondary glazing to selected windows
- Participation in the 'Reduce Your Use' campaign

Governance Statement and Board Members' Report

Governance

The Board of the National Library of Ireland (NLI) was appointed in accordance with the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997. The functions of the Board are set out in Section 12 of the Act (Functions of Board of the Library). The Board is accountable to the Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media and is responsible for ensuring good governance and performs this task by setting strategic objectives and targets and taking strategic decisions on all key business issues. The regular day-to-day management, control and direction of the NLI are the responsibility of the Director and the senior leadership team. The Director and the senior leadership team must follow the broad strategic direction set by the Board and must ensure that all Board members have a clear understanding of the key activities and decisions related to the entity, and of any significant risks likely to arise. The Director acts as a direct liaison between the Board and management of the Library.

Board Responsibilities

The work and responsibilities of all those associated with the operation of the Board are set out in the Code of Practice for the Governance of State Bodies (2016) for Board members, Chairperson, Director and Secretary. The Code also sets out the matters specifically reserved for Board decision. Standing items considered by the Board include:

- ◆ Declarations of interests,
- ◆ Reports from committees,
- ◆ Financial reports/management accounts,
- ◆ Performance reports, and
- ◆ Reserved matters.

The National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997, Section 35, requires the Board of the NLI to prepare financial statements in such form as may be approved by the Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media and to keep all proper and usual accounts of money received and expended by it.

In preparing these financial statements, the Board of the NLI is required to:

- ◆ Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- ◆ Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- ◆ Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the NLI will continue in operation; and
- ◆ State whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements.

The Board confirms that it has complied with the above requirements in preparing the financial statements.

The Board is responsible for keeping adequate accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the NLI and which enable it to ensure that the financial statements comply with Section 35 of the Act. The maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information on the NLI's website is the responsibility of the Board.

The Board is responsible for approving the annual plan and budgets. There is an on-going evaluation of the performance of the NLI by reference to its annual business plan and budget. The Board is also responsible for safeguarding its assets and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The Board considers that the financial statements of the NLI give a true and fair view of the financial performance and the financial position of the NLI at 31st December 2022. The Board approved the signing of this statement and the financial statements for the year ended 31st December 2022 on the 29th June 2023.

Board Structure

The Board consists of a Chairperson and 11 ordinary members, all of whom were appointed by the Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media. The Board members were appointed for a period of 3 or 5 years and meet 6 times per annum. The Table below details the appointment period of the Board members:

On 8 April 2022, Katherine McSharry withdrew as a member of the Board for the period in which she was serving as Acting Director and resigned from the NLI on 12th January 2023. The staff nominee Board position is currently vacant.

As at 31st December 2022, the Board had 8 (67 %) female and 4 (33 %) male members. The Board therefore does not currently meet the Government target of a minimum of 40% representation of each gender in the membership of State Boards. Board members' terms vary between 3 or 5 years. The Department of Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media are progressing the appointment of the vacant position and upcoming vacancies, by the Minister, and will consider the NLI's recommendations with regard to appointment of Board members with regard to the required skills, diversity and gender mix.

The Board completed an internal self-assessment effectiveness review in December 2021 and completed an external self-effectiveness review in September 2022.

There are three sub-committees of the Board of which two are statutory, namely the Readers Advisory Committee, the Genealogy and Heraldry Committee and one non-statutory committee, the Audit and Risk Committee (ARC).

- ◆ The Readers Advisory Committee is made up of two board members and four external independent members. The main function of the Readers Advisory Committee is to advise the Board on matters relating to the provision of services by the Library. This Committee met three times during 2022.
- ◆ The Genealogy and Heraldry Committee comprises four board members and four external non-board members. The main function of the Genealogy and Heraldry Committee is to advise the Board on matters arising from the Board's statutory powers and functions in the areas of genealogy and heraldry. This Committee met three times during 2022.
- ◆ The ARC comprises four board members and one independent external member. The role of the ARC is to support the Board in relation to its responsibilities for issues of risk, control and governance and associated assurance. The ARC is independent from the financial management of the organisation. In particular, the Committee ensures that the internal control systems including audit activities are monitored actively and independently. The ARC reports to the Board after each meeting and provides an annual report to the Board. There were six meetings of the ARC in 2022. The members of the ARC during 2022 were;

- ◆ Prof Ciarán Ó hÓgartaigh (Chairperson)
- ◆ Prof Maeve Conrick
- ◆ Jennifer Taaffe
- ◆ Caitriona Sharkey
- ◆ Teresa Harrington (external independent member – a qualified accountant, appointed on 15th February 2021 and resigned on 4th August 2022)
- ◆ Prof Philip O'Regan (external independent member – a qualified accountant, appointed 14th August 2022)

Statement on Internal Control

Scope of Responsibility

On behalf of the National Library of Ireland, we acknowledge the Board’s responsibility for ensuring that an effective system of internal control is maintained and operated. This responsibility takes account of the requirements of the Code of Practice for the Governance of State Bodies (2016).

Shared Services

Payroll and human resource functions are provided on a shared services basis by the National Shared Service Office (Vote 18). The Accounting Officer of the National Shared Services Office is responsible for the operation of controls within the Shared Service Centres.

The Accounting Officer for Shared Services has put in place an audit process to provide independent assurance on the operation of controls within shared services. This assurance is a combination of:

- ◆ Internal audit work performed by the National Shared Service Office’s Internal Audit Unit, and
- ◆ Audits conducted by a firm of accountants in accordance with the International Standard on Assurance Engagements (ISAE 3402), designed to report to user departments and their auditors on the controls within shared services. These audits report on the effectiveness of controls operated in 2022.

The Accounting Officer for shared services has provided a letter of assurance on the internal control and audit arrangements and reports on the audits of the operation of controls during 2022.

The NLI takes assurance from the system of control within shared services as reported by the Accounting Officer for the National Shared Services Office.

Purpose of the System of Internal Control

The system of internal control is designed to manage risk to a tolerable level rather than to eliminate it. The system can therefore only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance that assets are safeguarded, transactions authorised and properly recorded and that material errors or irregularities are either prevented or detected in a timely way.

The system of internal control, which accords with guidance issued by the Department of Public Expenditure and Reform has been in place in the National Library of Ireland for the year ended 31st December 2022 and up to the date of approval of the financial statements.

Capacity to Handle Risk

The National Library of Ireland has an Audit and Risk Committee (ARC) comprising four Board members and one external member, with financial and audit expertise. The ARC met six times in 2022.

The National Library of Ireland has an internal audit function as defined in the Board’s Charter for Internal Audit. The work of the internal audit function is informed by analysis of the risk to which the body is exposed, and annual internal audit plans are based on this analysis. The analysis of risk and the internal audit plans have been endorsed by the ARC and approved by the Board. The Internal Auditor provides the Board with reports of internal audit activity. The internal audit function has been outsourced to an external firm.

The ARC has developed a risk management policy, which sets out the NLI's risk appetite, the risk management processes in place and details the roles and responsibilities of staff in relation to risk. The policy has been issued to all staff who are expected to work within the National Library of Ireland's risk management policies, to alert management on emerging risks and control weaknesses and assume responsibility for risks and controls within their own area of work.

Risk and Control Framework

The National Library of Ireland has implemented a risk management system which identifies and reports key risks and the management actions being taken to address and, to the extent possible, to mitigate those risks. The Library's Board has retained risk management as a standing item on its meeting agenda. The Board reviewed and updated its risk management policy and risk appetite statement for the Library during 2021.

A risk register is in place which identifies the key risks facing the National Library of Ireland and these have been identified, evaluated and graded according to their significance. The register is reviewed and updated by the ARC on a half-yearly basis and is reviewed by the Board on an annual basis. The outcome of these assessments is used to plan and allocate resources to ensure risks are managed to an acceptable level.

The risk register details the controls and actions needed to mitigate risks and responsibility for operation of controls assigned to specific staff. We confirm that a control environment containing the following elements is in place:

- ◆ Procedures for all key business processes have been documented,
- ◆ Financial responsibilities have been assigned at management level with corresponding accountability,
- ◆ There is an appropriate budgeting system with an annual budget which is kept under review by senior management,
- ◆ There are systems aimed at ensuring the security of the information and communication technology systems,
- ◆ There are systems in place to safeguard the assets, and
- ◆ Control procedures to ensure adequate control over grant funding so that it has been applied for the purpose intended.

Ongoing Monitoring and Review

Formal procedures which have been established for monitoring control processes and control deficiencies are communicated to those responsible for taking corrective action and to management and the Board, where relevant, in a timely way. We confirm that the following ongoing monitoring systems are in place:

- ◆ Key risks and related controls have been identified and processes have been put in place to monitor the operation of those key controls and report any identified deficiencies,
- ◆ Reporting arrangements have been established at all levels where responsibility for financial management has been assigned, and
- ◆ There are regular reviews by senior management of periodic and annual performance and financial reports which indicate performance against budgets/forecasts.

Procurement

We confirm that the National Library of Ireland has procedures in place to ensure compliance with current procurement rules and guidelines. Other than those contracts disclosed in the 'Internal Control Issues' paragraph below, the Library complied with its procedures during 2022.

Review of Effectiveness

We confirm that the National Library of Ireland has procedures to monitor the effectiveness of its risk management and control procedures. The National Library of Ireland's monitoring and review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control is informed by the work of the internal and external auditors, the Audit and Risk Committee (which oversees their work) and the senior management within the National Library of Ireland responsible for the development and maintenance of the internal control framework.

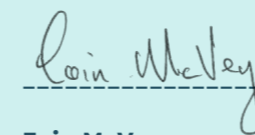

We confirm that the Board conducted an annual review of the effectiveness of the internal controls for 2022 on 23rd February 2023.

Internal Control Issues

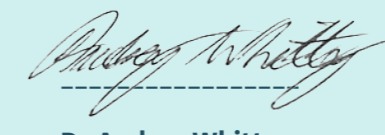

There were no internal control weaknesses identified during 2022 other than those disclosed below relating to expenditure in the amount of €145,176 (2021: €30,750):

- ◆ One contract (2022: €95,872, 2021: €30,750) relating to the provision of public relations, communications and marketing services, had been awarded under a competitive process, but was extended with Board approval, beyond its contract end date. A procurement competition for the provision of this service is concluded and a new contract was put in place in September 2022.
- ◆ One contract (2022: €49,304, 2021: €nil) relating to the provision of security services to the NLI, had been awarded under a competitive process, but was extended with Board approval, beyond its contract end date. A procurement competition for the provision of this service is concluded and a new contract was put in place in September 2022.

Comptroller and Auditor General's Report

Ard Reachtaire Cuntas agus Ciste Comptroller and Auditor General

Report for presentation to the Houses of the Oireachtas

National Library of Ireland

Opinion on the financial statements

I have audited the financial statements of the National Library of Ireland for the year ended 31 December 2022 as required under the provisions of section 35 of the National Cultural Institutions Act 1997. The financial statements comprise

- the statement of income and expenditure and retained revenue reserves
- the statement of comprehensive income
- the statement of financial position
- the statement of cash flows, and
- the related notes, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In my opinion, the financial statements give a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities and financial position of the National Library of Ireland at 31 December 2022 and of its income and expenditure for 2022 in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard (FRS) 102 — The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and the Republic of Ireland.

Basis of opinion

I conducted my audit of the financial statements in accordance with the International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as promulgated by the International Organisation of Supreme Audit Institutions. My responsibilities under those standards are described in the appendix to this report. I am independent of the National Library of Ireland and have fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the standards.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Report on information other than the financial statements, and on other matters

The National Library of Ireland has presented certain other information together with the financial statements. This comprises the annual report, the governance statement and Board members' report, and the statement on internal control. My responsibilities to report in relation to such information, and on certain other matters upon which I report by exception, are described in the appendix to this report.

I have nothing to report in that regard.

Mary Henry
For and on behalf of the Comptroller and Auditor General

06 July 2023

Appendix to the report

Responsibilities of Board members

As detailed in the governance statement and Board members' report, the Board members are responsible for

- the preparation of annual financial statements in the form prescribed under section 35 of the National Cultural Institutions Act 1997
- ensuring that the financial statements give a true and fair view in accordance with FRS 102
- ensuring the regularity of transactions
- assessing whether the use of the going concern basis of accounting is appropriate, and
- such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Responsibilities of the Comptroller and Auditor General

I am required under section 35 of the National Cultural Institutions Act 1997 to audit the financial statements of the National Library of Ireland and to report thereon to the Houses of the Oireachtas.

My objective in carrying out the audit is to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement due to fraud or error. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the ISAs, I exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. In doing so,

- I identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements whether due to fraud or error; design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks; and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- I obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal controls.
- I evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures.

- I conclude on the appropriateness of the use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, on whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the National Library of Ireland's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my report. However, future events or conditions may cause the National Library of Ireland to cease to continue as a going concern.
- I evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

I communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

I report by exception if, in my opinion,

- I have not received all the information and explanations I required for my audit, or
- the accounting records were not sufficient to permit the financial statements to be readily and properly audited, or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records.

Information other than the financial statements

My opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information presented with those statements, and I do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with my audit of the financial statements, I am required under the ISAs to read the other information presented and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or with knowledge obtained during the audit, or if it otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work I have performed, I conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, I am required to report that fact.

Reporting on other matters

My audit is conducted by reference to the special considerations which attach to State bodies in relation to their management and operation. I report if I identify material matters relating to the manner in which public business has been conducted.

I seek to obtain evidence about the regularity of financial transactions in the course of audit. I report if I identify any material instance where public money has not been applied for the purposes intended or where transactions did not conform to the authorities governing them.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Accounting Policies

The basis of accounting and the significant accounting policies adopted by the National Library of Ireland are set out below. They have all been applied consistently throughout the year and for the preceding year.

(a) General Information

The National Library of Ireland was set up under the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997, with a head office at Kildare Street, Dublin 2.

The National Library of Ireland's primary objectives as set out in Part 12 of the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997 are as follows:

"... to conserve, restore, maintain and enlarge the National Library material in the collection of the National Library for the benefit of the public and to establish and maintain a record of library material (including material relating to the Irish language) in relation to Ireland and to contribute to the provision of access by members of the public to material relating to other countries."

The National Library of Ireland is a Public Benefit Entity (PBE).

(b) Statement of Compliance

The financial statements of the National Library of Ireland ("The National Library") for the year ended 31st December 2022 have been prepared in accordance with FRS 102, the financial reporting standard applicable in the UK and Ireland issued by the Financial Reporting Council (FRC).

(c) Basis of Preparation

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for certain assets and liabilities that are measured at fair values as explained in the accounting policies below. The financial statements are in the form approved by the Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media under the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997. The following accounting policies have been applied consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the National Library's financial statements.

As set out in Note 15, the National Library of Ireland Trust (the Trust) was established to aid the development of the National Library. These financial statements do not consolidate the results of the Trust on the basis that it is not required by Section 35 of the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997.

(d) Revenue

Oireachtas Grants

Revenue from Oireachtas Grants, Sub-head B.7, Reimagining the National Library – Capital Development, is recognised on a reimbursable basis in line with the expenditure incurred in the year. All other revenue from Oireachtas Grants is recognised on a cash receipts basis.

Other Revenue

Other revenue is recognised on an accruals basis.

Direct Costs

Direct costs relating to the generation of other revenue through the activities of the National Library, e.g. Heraldry, are shown gross on the face of Note 4, Other Income.

(e) Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation, adjusted for any provision for impairment. Depreciation is provided on all property, plant and equipment at rates estimated to write off the cost less the estimated residual value of each asset on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

(i)	Furniture and Fittings	10% per annum
(ii)	IT Equipment	25% per annum
(iii)	Office and General Equipment	20% per annum
(iv)	Exhibitions Operating	20% per annum or over life of exhibition

Property, plant and equipment below the capitalisation threshold of €10,000 (prior to 1st January 2022, capitalisation threshold of €1,000 applied) are expensed in the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Retained Revenue Reserves in the year of purchase.

Residual value represents the estimated amount which would currently be obtained from disposal of an asset, after deducting estimated costs of disposal, if the asset were already of an age and in the condition expected at the end of its useful life.

If there is objective evidence of impairment of the value of an asset, an impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Retained Reserves in the year.

The fixed assets of the National Library are funded from a combination of capital grants and allocations from current revenue. Funding sourced from grants is transferred to a capital account which is amortised in line with the depreciation of the related assets.

(f) Receivables

Receivables are recognised at fair value, less a provision for doubtful debts, where applicable. A provision for doubtful debts is a specific provision, and is established when there is objective evidence that the National Library will not be able to collect all amounts owed to it. All movements in any provision for doubtful debts are recognised in the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Retained Revenue Reserves.

(g) Employee Benefits

Short-term Benefits

Short-term benefits such as holiday pay are recognised as an expense in the year, and benefits that are accrued at year-end are included in the Payables figure in the Statement of Financial Position.

Retirement Benefits

The National Library previously established its own defined benefit pension scheme (“the Main Scheme”), funded annually on a pay-as-you-go basis from monies provided by the Department of Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media and from contributions deducted from staff members’ salaries. The National Library also operates the Single Public Services Pension Scheme (“the Single Scheme”), which is a defined benefit scheme for pensionable public servants appointed on or after 1st January 2013. Single Scheme members’ contributions are paid over to the Department of Public Expenditure and Reform (DPER).

Pension costs reflect pension benefits earned by employees, and are shown net of staff pension contributions which are retained by the National Library. An amount corresponding to the pension charge is recognised as income to the extent that it is recoverable, and offset by grants received in the year to discharge pension payments.

Actuarial gains or losses arising on scheme liabilities are reflected in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, and a corresponding adjustment is recognised in the amount recoverable from the Department of Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media.

The financial statements reflect – at fair value – the assets and liabilities arising from the National Library’s pension obligations and any related funding, and recognise the costs of providing pension benefits in the accounting periods in which they are earned by employees. Retirement benefit scheme liabilities are measured on an actuarial basis using the projected unit credit method.

(h) Heritage Assets and Library Collections

A Heritage Asset is defined as a tangible asset with historical, artistic, scientific, technological, geophysical or environmental qualities that is held and maintained principally for its contribution to knowledge and culture.

Initial Recognition

Purchased items are recorded at cost in the financial statements. Donation items are recorded at a current valuation ascertained by Keepers of the Library with reference, where possible, to commercial markets using recent transaction information from auctions. Donations, where the National Library avails of Section 1003 of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997 are recorded on the basis of the valuation of the Office of the Revenue Commissioners.

Donations are recognised as income with a corresponding transfer to the Heritage Fixed Assets capital account as follows:

- ◆ Donations that do not impose specified future performance-related conditions on the Library are recognised in income when the resources are received or receivable;
- ◆ Donations that do impose specified future performance-related conditions on the Library are recognised in income only when the performance-related conditions are met; and
- ◆ Where resources are received before the revenue recognition criteria are satisfied, a liability is recognised.

Valuation

The Board does not consider that reliable cost or valuation information can be obtained for all the items held in the collections of the National Library. This is because of the diverse nature of materials held, the number of items in the collections and the lack of comparable market values. The National Library therefore does not recognise all its collections as assets in the Statement of Financial Position other than acquisitions which cost or were valued at €5,000 or more and were acquired or donated since the Board was established in May 2005. These are classified as Heritage Assets at the recording date.

Heritage assets are initially recognised at the cost of acquisition as the value attributed for donated items. The items are carried at cost in the statement of financial position with reductions for impairment where relevant.

All acquisitions for the collection purchased for €5,000 or more are funded from the National Library’s capital funding allocation for the year while acquisitions which cost less than €5,000 are funded from the current funding allocation.

Web Archiving and Digitisation are capitalised at cost and where cataloguing and metadata is directly related to the Web Archiving and Digitisation projects, these costs are also capitalised.

Impairment

Heritage assets are not depreciated. If there is objective evidence of impairment of the value of a heritage asset, an impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Retained Revenue Reserves in the year. A heritage asset may be impaired, for example where it has suffered physical deterioration, breakage or doubts arise as to its authenticity.

Conservation Costs

Conservation expenditure which is required to conserve or prevent further deterioration of individual items is recognised in the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Retained Revenue Reserves when it is incurred.

(i) Critical Accounting Judgements and Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported for assets and liabilities as at the reporting date and the amounts reported for revenues and expenses during the year. However, the nature of estimation means that actual outcomes could differ from those estimates. The following judgements have had the most significant effect on amounts recognised in the financial statements.

Donated Heritage Assets

The values of collection items donated to the National Library are determined by using valuation techniques. The National Library exercises judgment in selecting a variety of methods as outlined in the accounting policy for Heritage Assets (h) above.

Impairment of Property, Plant and Equipment

Assets that are subject to amortisation are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset’s carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset’s fair value less cost to sell and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash generating units). Non-financial assets that suffered impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each reporting date.

Depreciation and Residual Values

The Board have reviewed the asset lives and associated residual values of all fixed asset classes, and in particular, the useful economic life and residual values of fixtures and fittings, and have concluded that asset lives and residual values are appropriate.

Deferred Funding for Retirement Benefits

With reference to the Superannuation Schemes referred to in the “Employee Benefits” section above:

- ◆ The Board has recognised an asset corresponding to the unfunded liability for retirement benefits payable under the Main Scheme and the Single Scheme and has recognised deferred funding for retirement benefits recognised in the year ended 31st December 2022. In the judgement of the Board the funds required to meet these unfunded pension obligations will continue to be provided by the Department of Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media or its successor entities.
- ◆ Pension contributions under the Single Scheme are remitted to the Department of Public Expenditure and Reform. For Single Scheme members, section 44 of the Public Service Pensions (Single Scheme and Other Provisions) Act 2012 provides for funding of pension payments as they fall due by way of payments out of the Central Fund or from funds provided by the Oireachtas for that purpose. The single scheme is a defined benefit scheme and is included in the 2022 FRS 102 disclosures.

Retirement Benefit Obligation

The assumptions underlying the actuarial valuations for which the amounts recognised in the financial statements are determined (including discount rates, rates of increase in future compensation levels and mortality rates) are updated annually based on current economic conditions, and for any relevant changes to the terms and conditions of the pension and post-retirement plans.

The assumptions can be affected by:

- (i) the discount rate, changes in the rate of return on high-quality corporate bonds; and
- (ii) future compensation levels, future labour market conditions.

2. Oireachtas Grants

(c) Deferred Funding for Retirement Benefits

The Board recognises these amounts as an asset corresponding to the unfunded deferred liability for retirement benefits on the basis of the set of assumptions described above and a number of past events. These events include the statutory basis for the establishment of the retirement benefit scheme, and the policy and practice currently in place in relation to funding public service pensions including contributions by employees and the annual estimates process. The Board has no evidence that this funding policy will not continue to meet such sums in accordance with current practice.

The net deferred funding for retirement benefits recognised in the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Retained Revenue Reserves is as follows:

	2022 €	2021 €
Funding recoverable in respect of current year retirement benefit costs	2,434,000	2,035,000

(e) General description of the schemes

The Library's retirement benefit scheme is a defined benefit final salary pension arrangement with benefits and contributions defined by reference to current "model" public sector scheme regulations. The scheme provides a pension (being 1/80 per year of service), a gratuity or lump sum (being 3/80 per year of service) and spouses and children's pensions. Normal retirement age is a member's 65th birthday, and pre-2004 members have an entitlement to retire without actuarial reduction from age 60. Pensions in payment (and deferment) normally increase in line with general public sector salary inflation.

The Single Public Service Pension Scheme (Single Scheme) is also operated by the National Library of Ireland and it is a defined benefit pension scheme for pensionable public servants appointed on or after 1st January 2013 in accordance with the Public Service Pension (Single Scheme and Other Provisions) Act 2012. The scheme provides for a pension and a retirement lump sum based on career-average pensionable remuneration and spouse's and children's pensions. The minimum pension age is 66 years (rising in line with State pension age changes). It includes an actuarially-reduced early retirement facility from age 55. Pensions in payment increase in line with the consumer price index.

The valuation used for FRS102 disclosures has been based on a full actuarial valuation performed in March 2023 by a qualified independent actuary, taking account of the requirements of the FRS in order to assess the scheme liabilities at 31st December 2022.

The Principal Actuarial Assumptions were as follows:

	2022	2021
Inflation	2.25%	2.00%
Rate of general long-term increase in salaries	3.25%	3.00%
Rate of increase in state benefits	2.75%	2.00%
Rate of increase in deferred benefits	2.75%	2.00%
Pension increases	2.75%	2.00%
Discount rate for scheme liabilities	4.20%	1.20%

Mortality

The mortality basis explicitly allows for improvements in life expectancy over time, so that life expectancy at retirement will depend on the year in which a member attains retirement age. The table below shows the life expectancy for members attaining age 65 in 2022 and 2042.

Year of attaining age 65	2022	2042
Life expectancy – male	87.2	88.6
Life expectancy – female	89.8	91.4

As outlined in Note 1(h) heritage assets acquired/donated since the Board was established in 2005 are included in the Statement of Financial Position. The existing collections of the National Library at establishment date were not vested in the Board - they remained vested in the State. The Board is of the view that valuing these collections or determining their original cost is impractical and would not, in any event, yield information that is relevant or useful in assessing its stewardship of the collections.

Most items acquired for the collections are individually of low value such as books, newspapers and periodicals. Materials published in Ireland are acquired through legal deposit in accordance with the provisions of Section 198 of the Copyright and Related Rights Act, 2000 (as amended). Materials published elsewhere are acquired by purchase or donation in accordance with the National Library's Collection Development Policy. This includes materials published in Northern Ireland as well as materials published abroad of Irish interest in accordance with the requirements of Section 12 of the Cultural Institutions Act 1997.

Collections during 2022 are shown in the table above, distinguishing between expenditure charged to the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Retained Revenue Reserves on items individually valued at less than €5,000 - which is shown by type - and expenditure on capitalised items or digital projects valued at €5,000 or more - which are itemised.

12. Heritage Assets

(a) General Information

In accordance with the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997 all Library Collections are the property of the State and are managed by the Board of the Library.

- ◆ The principal functions of the Board of the Library are to conserve, restore, maintain and enlarge the library material in the collection of the Library for the benefit of the public; to establish and maintain a record of library material (including material relating to the Irish language) in relation to Ireland; and to contribute to the provision of access by members of the public to material relating to other countries.
- ◆ The Board of the National Library of Ireland has the power to enlarge the collections of the Library.
- ◆ The Board of the National Library of Ireland also has the power to lend materials, subject to the provisions of Section 18 (1) of the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997.
- ◆ The Board of the National Library of Ireland also has the power to dispose of library materials subject to the provisions of Section 18 (2) of the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997.
- ◆ All acquisitions for the collection purchased in excess of €5,000 are funded from the Library's capital funding allocation for the year while acquisitions which cost less than €5,000 are funded from the current funding allocation.

(b) Nature and Scale of the Collection

The National Library's holdings constitute the most comprehensive collection of Irish documentary material in the world and offer an invaluable representation of Ireland's history and heritage.

The National Library's management structure reflects three broad strands of collecting focus, each the responsibility of a Keeper or Head of Division, as follows:

- Special Collections
- Published Collections
- Digital Collections.

Special Collections

Special Collections comprises rare and unique material such as manuscripts, photographs, prints, drawings, ephemera, rare and antiquarian books, manuscripts, maps and music. It includes many millions of items with, for example, over 4.5 million items in the photographic collections and over one million items in the manuscript collection.

Published Collections

Published Collections comprises modern and new books, newspapers and periodicals. One of the main collections within Published Collections is the Legal Deposit Collection which includes all material – books, newspapers and journals published in Ireland – acquired under the Legal Deposit provisions of the Copyright and Related Rights Act 2000 (as amended).

Digital Collections

Digital Collections comprises digital objects created by the National Library as a result of the digitisation of material from Special Collections and Published Collections (new assets) as well as the items described as “Born Digital”, such as websites that have never existed except in digital format.

(c) Acquisition

The Board of the National Library has the power to enlarge the collections of the National Library and material is acquired in three ways: by legal deposit, donation, and purchase.

Legal Deposit

Legal deposit is a statutory provision which obliges publishers to deposit copies of their publications in certain libraries, usually in the country in which they are published. In the Republic of Ireland statutory provision for legal deposit is set out in the Copyright and Related Rights Act 2000 (as amended).

Donation

Each year the National Library receives important donations to the collections. Donations are subject to appraisal in line with the criteria set out the National Library's Collection Development Policy.

In certain instances - as provided for under section 1003 of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997 - donors may be allowed tax relief for donations of heritage items to the National Library. This relief may apply to gifts or “heritage items” such as archives, books, estate records, manuscripts and prints where the total value of the items donated exceeds €150,000.

Purchase

The National Library's acquisitions budget is used to further develop the National Library's collections, whether by direct purchase or by auction. Decisions to purchase antiquarian material and unique heritage items are made in accordance with the criteria set out in the National Library's Collection Development Policy. Current and new publications of Irish interest, not acquired under legal deposit, are purchased as a matter of course.

(d) Preservation and Conservation

The Conservation Department works to preserve and conserve the collections of the National Library of Ireland. In general, preservation measures do not improve the condition of an object, but slow down degradation and prevent damage by passive methods. By contrast, conservation aims to prolong the life and accessibility of collections through interventive treatments, which improve the physical, chemical and often visual condition of an object.

As well as the conservation treatment of rare and unique objects, the conservators work on a diverse range of measures to reduce risks of damage to the collections. These activities include supporting and training staff in all aspect of collection care and management including handling, condition assessment, surveying, rehousing and phase-boxing. Conservators also prepare items for exhibition, digitisation and loan for exhibition.

(e) Disposal

The Board of the National Library also has the power to dispose of library materials subject to the provisions of Section 18(2) of the National Cultural Institutions Act, 1997. The National Library does not normally dispose of material from the collections.

(f) Analysis of Acquisitions

As outlined in the Accounting Policies (Note 1, (h)), the National Library recognises all Heritage Assets (with an individual value of more than €5,000) purchased or acquired since 2005.
